Building Paycheque portfolios: A four-step process

One of the most significant questions surrounding retirement is how to generate sufficient retirement income. Focusing on cash flows allows for a broader perspective and allows retirees to reach their financial goals without taking on a higher level of risk. Building a cash-flow portfolio is a four-step process.

Dynamic Income Map

The Dynamic income map can assist with building a Paycheque Portfolio™ approach by providing options that can meet your retirement needs.

For Trust Fund distributions may consist of net income, dividends, net realized capital gains, and/or return of capital.

For Corporate Class distributions may consist of dividends, net realized capital gains, and/or return of capital.

Distributions are not guaranteed and investors should not confuse a fund's distribution yield with its performance or rate of return.

Cash-flow requirements: The C-S-T cash-flow bucket checklist

Consistency

Is the cash flow consistent every month, quarter & year?

Sustainability

Is the cash flow sustainable for the foreseeable future?

Taxation

Is the after-tax cash flow relevant?

A key consideration: Cash flow and taxes

When it comes to taxes, not all sources of income are created equal. Building a resilient paycheque portfolio requires a special focus on maximizing after-tax cash flow.

Consistency

Building paycheque portfolios for cash flow maintains income regardless of the cycle. With paycheque portfolios, the goal is to create a consistent cash flow – regardless of the economic cycle or market fluctuations/swings.
